

Historic Property Status Inquiries

To find out if a property has been listed on the National Register of Historic Places or State Register of Historic Places, you may contact the State Historic Preservation Office.

Information about properties listed on the National Register can be searched online at:
<http://www.nps.gov/nr/research/>.

There is currently no database or digital list available for properties included on the State Register. The State Historic Preservation Office maintains a research library that is open to the public by appointment, where the State Register files may be viewed. For information about the historic status of single properties, you may email your request to Jenny Scofield @ jenny.scofield@ct.gov. Please include the property street address and town in your request. Due to the high volume of inquiries, please allow up to two weeks for a response.
